José Andrés & World Central Kitchen

THE WORLD CENTRAL KITCHEN COOKBOOK

A collection of stories and recipes from renowned chefs, local cooks, and celebrity friends of José Andrés's beloved nonprofit World Central Kitchen (WCK), which feeds communities impacted by natural disasters and humanitarian crises; with a foreword from Stephen Colbert. WCK shares recipes inspired by the many places they've cooked following disasters as well as inspiring narratives from the chefs and volunteers on the front lines in places like Beirut and Ukraine. Photographs captured throughout the world highlight community and hope. And famous WCK supporters share recipes too (like Breakfast Tacos from Michelle Obama). A celebration of dignity and perseverance—and about building longer tables, not higher walls. New York Times Bestseller!

Anthony Bourdain WORLD TRAVEL

Anthony Bourdain saw more of the world than nearly anyone. His travels took him from the hidden pockets of his hometown of New York to a tribal longhouse in Borneo, from cosmopolitan Buenos Aires, Paris, and Shanghai to Tanzania's utter beauty, and the stunning desert solitude of Oman's Empty Quarter—and many places beyond. In World Travel, a life of experience is collected into an entertaining, practical, fun and frank travel guide that gives readers an introduction to some of his favorite places—in his own words. Featuring sage advice on how to get there, what to eat, where to stay and, in some cases, what to avoid, while providing essential context that will help readers further appreciate the reasons why Bourdain found a place enchanting and memorable, World Travel offers a chance to experience the world like Anthony Bourdain. #1 New York Times Bestseller

David Chang EAT A PEACH

The chef behind Momofuku and star of Netflix's Ugly Delicious gets uncomfortably real in his debut memoir. As a young, unspectacular cook, David Chang opened a noodle restaurant in Manhattan's East Village that should not have survived its first, misbegotten year. But, through sheer stubbornness and a series of utterly reckless choices, he became a chef who The New York Times once described as "the modern equivalent of Norman Mailer or Muhammad Ali." In this memoir, Chang lays bare his self-doubt and ruminates on mental health. He explains the ideas that guide him and demonstrates how cuisine is a weapon against complacency and racism. Exhibiting the vulnerability of Andre Agassi's Open and the vivid storytelling of Patti Smith's Just Kids, this is a portrait of a modern America in which tenacity can overcome anything. New York Times Bestseller!

THE M.F.K. FISHER ESTATE

M.F.K. Fisher (1908 – 1992) was a preeminent food writer and the author of twenty-seven books, including a translation of The Physiology of Taste by Brillat-Savarin. Her musings and memories on food, love, and life have been published widely around the world and have served as inspiration for generations of food writers (and enthusiasts) that followed. Her first book, Serve it Forth, was published in 1937, and one of her best known is the compilation The Art of Eating, first published in 1954 and reissued in 2004, which Julia Child called “the essence of M.F.K. Fisher, whose wit and fulsome opinions on food and those who produce it, comment upon it, and consume it are as apt today as they were several decades ago, when she composed them.” The Art of Eating brought together classic M.F.K. Fisher titles including Consider the Oyster, How to Cook a Wolf, and The Gastronomical Me.

Steph Grasso

CRAVE, COOK, NOURISH

Develop a healthier, happier relationship with food by tapping into these 80-plus nourishing recipes with zero intimidation factor from registered dietitian, nutrition expert, and TikTok sensation Steph Grasso. In her debut cookbook, Steph debunks diet culture and offers up fun and easy ways to make healthy, accessible, and affordable food choices. Crave, Cook, Nourish subscribes to the notion that all bites are good bites when balanced: Why restrict your favorite foods when you can simply add more nutrients to your plate. Steph lays out the basic building blocks of nutrition so you can make healthful choices with ease. Starting with a brief history of diet culture, Crave, Cook, Nourish is packed with tips and hacks to make grocery shopping and meal prep feel like second nature. Included in the book are more than 80 of Steph’s delicious, nutrient-packed, and easy-to-make recipes.

Gregory Hall with Laurie Woolever

THE HUNGRY BREWER

Greg Hall was brewmaster at Goose Island Beer, the craft beer company his father founded in 1988, for twenty years. He was responsible for many of Goose’s prize-winning top sellers, including Bourbon County Stout, a landmark brew that introduced barrel-aged beers to the industry. In The Hungry Brewer, Hall gives us the story of the first generation of American craft beer makers and drinkers. The Hungry Brewer is about the joy of eating and drinking, about traveling to places like the Maltings in York to blow through samples of 40 different ciders or the hunt in Belgium, beginning at Bier Circus in Brussels, for a way into the legendary no-outsiders-allowed Trappist monastery Rochefort where the beer is the color of the monks’ robes. The Hungry Brewer is also a business story as Greg and his father navigate—not always smoothly—the sale of their charming, idiosyncratic outfit to an enormous multi-national corporation.

Arielle Johnson

FLAVORAMA

An irreverent, accessible, essential guide to the science of flavor and how to use it in your own kitchen, from the food scientist-confidante of some of the world's best chefs. Arielle Johnson is a flavor scientist who spends most of her time helping chefs better understand flavor and make delicious new foods. Now, with Flavorama, she shares this invaluable knowledge with home cooks everywhere. Mixing equal parts fun and braininess, Arielle dives into how chemistry, sensation, and craft unite to create flavor, distilling what flavor really is (molecules!) and how to get it to work for you. You don't need a lab or a professional kitchen—or even a background in science—to get something out of the science of flavor or to cook with the creativity, confidence, and flexibility of a world-class chef.

Yasmin Khan

NOURISH

Nourish is an uplifting, deeply practical cookbook designed to support new mothers through late pregnancy and the demanding early months of parenthood. Inspired by postpartum food traditions from around the world, it brings together 45 accessible, flavor-driven recipes from the Mediterranean, Middle East, and Asia—regions where generations of women have long understood the power of food in recovery, comfort, and care. The recipes balance tradition with real-life usability: freezer-friendly meals that can be prepared in advance, restorative broths and tonics, and quick, satisfying dishes for days when time and energy are scarce. Every recipe is chosen with the needs of new parents in mind: simple, adaptable, and deeply sustaining. Interwoven throughout are intimate essays from award-winning writer Yasmin Khan, reflecting on the emotional landscape of early motherhood.

Evan LeRoy & Paula Forbes

NEW SCHOOL BARBECUE

Michelin-starred pitmaster Evan LeRoy shares the tenets of barbecue with illustrations, step-by-step photography, and nearly 100 delicious recipes for mains, sides, and desserts that run the gamut from bacon ribs to smoked banana pudding. As the co-owner, pitmaster, and mastermind chef at LeRoy and Lewis, one of the most popular and acclaimed BBQ joints in Texas, LeRoy has reinvigorated the old style and staked his claim as a modern master of the barbecue game. In New School Barbecue, LeRoy encourages home cooks to go beyond the “classic” dishes everyone serves. The methods he outlines can be applied to any cut of any meat, any type of produce, and almost any cuisine. And LeRoy’s techniques work on all kinds of outdoor cookers: offset smoker, pellet smoker, a kamado grill, or an old-fashioned Weber kettle grill, so anyone will be able to apply his recipes and recommendations to their setup.

Scarlett Lindeman

BEAUTIFUL, EDIBLE, AND DERANGED

This is an intimate, gritty, and darkly funny memoir of transformation and tenacity in one of the most vibrant and chaotic cities on the planet. Beautiful, Edible, and Deranged is a first-person account of trading in “normal life” for the wild ride of running restaurants in Mexico City—a place where success depends not just on good food, but on mastering the fine art of dodging floods, navigating misogyny, wrangling bureaucracy, and occasionally, surviving tectonic movement. More than just a behind-the-scenes look at restaurant life, this book is a love letter to an adopted city. It follows the journey of building two internationally recognized establishments from scratch, while reckoning with questions of privilege, place, and purpose. Scarlett Lindeman is the chef/owner of Cicatriz in Mexico City. She is a writer who has published for popular and academic platforms, including The Los Angeles Times, T Magazine, The Atlantic, and Esquire.

Millie Peartree

FULL HEARTS, FULL TABLE

Full Hearts, Full Table offers over 100 generous, accessible, and deeply flavorful recipes organized not by course, but by the real-life moments that call us to the kitchen, by chef, writer, and community advocate Millie Peartree. From a Sheet-Pan Shrimp Boil to Jerk Chicken Meatballs and Sweet Potato Poundcake, Millie's cooking is rooted in the vibrant food culture of the Bronx. Her food leans into comfort with a bright edge, using pantry staples, fresh herbs, and citrus to create meals that taste like love. This approach was shaped by a lesson from her mother: recipes are just a starting point, and the real magic happens when you make food your own. What sets this book apart is its radical usability and emotional framework. The book is organized around the reasons we cook, with sections like "I Didn't Feel Like Cooking" and "You're the Reason We're Celebrating." This intuitive structure meets a fundamental need for the modern home cook, solving the "what should I make?" dilemma by connecting recipes to real-life situations.

Eric Ripert

MINDFUL COOKING

Three-Michelin-starred chef Eric Ripert explores how food can bring health, joy, mindfulness, and gratitude into our daily lives, with over 75 simple, plant-based recipes. While exploring the preparation of Buddhist temple cuisine at monasteries across Japan and Korea, Eric Ripert witnessed a relationship with food rooted in reverence, sustainability, and intention. The respect for nature and the understanding of food as nourishing both body and soul resonated deeply. From that revelation came Mindful Cooking. This book showcases delicious, vegetable-forward dishes that challenge the way we think about cooking and eating in the Western world. While some recipes are inspired by Ripert's travels through Asia, he draws from an eclectic range of culinary inspiration, including the French classics of his youth. Mindful Cooking is more than just recipes; Chef Ripert urges us to deepen our connection to what we eat and recognize that every meal is an opportunity to nourish more than just our bodies.
